

Rising Costs Boost Hospital Room Rates

By Earl Adams

The skyrocketing cost of hospital rooms is caused by the rise in salaries and other hospital expenses, according to administrators at several hospitals here.

Since 1946, when Lutheran General Hospital opened in Park Ridge, there have been seven increases in the price of private rooms there. In 1960 a private room, with the same services offered today, cost a patient $155. Room, board and labor nursing care is included in the room price.

In 1964 the private room rate was raised to $186.50; in 1965, to $185.50; 1966, to $241.50; Dec. 1966 to $465.00; Jan. 1967 to $457.50; 1967 to $485.00; the 1968 and 1969 rates are $525 a day.

"About two-thirds of our operating costs go for salaries," said Harold Kott, public relations assistant at Lutheran Hospital.

"A well-trained staff is required to give the patient the best possible care and we must pay them a substantial salary for these services," said Kott.

In 1955 salaries paid about 62 per cent of our total operating cost and in 1968, about 75 per cent, went for salaries," said Kott.

Since 1958, when Northwestern Community Hospital opened, it also has had three increases in its semi-private room rate. For 1958, it was $15; in 1963 it was $18 and in 1968 and 1969 it was $25. In 1958 the rate was $24; in 1964 it was $25; 1967, $34; and since 1968 the rate has been $37.

"Because of the technological advances that have been made in the average patient's stay, the public relations director at Northwestern Community Hospital, Arlington Heights, "So, even though hospital expenses have increased, the patient's stay has been reduced almost twice."

"Other expenses such as doctor expenses, tests and drugs," said Kott.

At St. Ann's Hospital, St. Elgin, village, patients' room rates also have been increasing. In 1966 when the rate was $23, in 1966 it was raised to $24, in 1967 to $25 and in 1967 it was raised to $32, said Richard Hensley, public relations director at St. Ann's.

"The SAME things that influence the cost of hospital care also influence the things that influence the cost of hospital care," said McCaffrey, assistant administrator at Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

"The inflationary cost of supplies, medications and food are among the items that influence the cost of hospital care," said McCaffrey.

"While the continual turnover in hospital management contributes to the rise in hospital rates," said McCaffrey, "What a good thing that the hospital industry is doing to keep its costs better in line with the same things that influence the cost of hospital care."

"The SAME things that influence the cost of hospital care also influence the things that influence the cost of hospital care," said McCaffrey, assistant administrator at Holy Family Hospital, Des Plaines.

A Cook County coroner's jury returned an "undetermined" verdict Friday following an inquest into the Dec. 22 death of Christopher Whitehead, 16, in the basement of his home at 1529 Barclay Ridge, Arlington Heights.

The boy was found by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whitehead, moments after they heard a single shotgun blast from the basement where the youth had been sitting alone.

The 23-page gun was found partially crumpled in the boy's room.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at Northwestern Community Hospital.

Rev. Lindstrom Demands 'Resolute Action'

The U.S. government must take more resolute action to insure the constitutional and human rights of American citizens, according to Rev. Paul Lindstrom.

Speaking before the House of Representatives Thursday, the pastor of the National Remembrance of the Public Committee said, "The moral soul of America is more militant today."

Lindstrom said that his committee was formed because he felt that as a Christian he must have sympathy for the 82 new members of the U.S.S. Pueblo who were imprisoned last year by the North Koreans.

"For 332 days these 82 American citizens were held in violation of their constitutional and human rights," Lindstrom said. "Our committee felt that more resolute and courageous action would have resulted in their release at an earlier date."

Lindstrom said the House that he had studied military history at the University of Illinois before entering the ministry and he felt that there was biblical proof that "resolute and courageous action" was the only answer to the country's current foreign relations problem.

"The Remembrance of the Public Committee will continue to function," according to Lindstrom, to obtain the release of Americans who are being held in other countries through the world.

Washington, Jan. 20, the anniversary of the seizure of the Pueblo, to confer with William Rogers, the new secretary of state, and he hopes to impress upon him our view that more resolute action must be taken to bring about the release of these men and the action necessary to make our standing in the world."

Friends wrote letters to the congressmen, representatives and senators to support our position and bring about the release of these men and the action necessary to make our standing in the world."

Engel Honored During Jaycee Week

Jayce Week, Jan. 20-25, was proclaimed by Village President Woods at the Arlington Heights Jaycee dinner Saturday at the Coronet restaurant, Arlington Heights.

The week here is in honor of the 56-year-old service organization.

Woods said that the Arlington Heights Jaycees have been a prominent source of civic betterment in their 17 years.

Two members have been selected as outstanding Jaycees by the organization and will be featured during Jayce Week by the City.

Joseph Engel, 1014 N. Duane, Arlington Heights, joined the Jaycees in June, 1946, and has obtained numerous civic and youth positions, the president of the organization.

Engel is executive vice president of Engel Advertising Inc., in Chicago and holds a bachelor of science degree in marketing from the University of Notre Dame.

"I like the opportunity the Jaycees afford for young men to get together and do something for the community," Engel said.

Parent in a Hurry
One area that has especially benefited from a volunteer program is the school. Children across the U.S. as well as their mothers have had volunteer programs in operation for several years.

A National School Volunteer Program has been set up through a grant to the Public Education Association after a pioneer program in New York City proved very successful. The national program is designed to help local citizen groups and boards of education establish their own volunteer programs.

THE SCHOOL volunteer program has proven to be a two-way street for its participants with volunteers, and the schools. The individual volunteer in the classroom provides the individual attention and

Reporter Is Guest At Patton

Ron Kozick, Chicago Tribune reporter, will challenge Patton PTA members at 8 p.m. Tuesday evening when he discusses juvenile problems.

Kozick, who recently covered the serious school disturbances in Chicago, will discuss urban and suburban juvenile problems. After his talk the audience will be asked to participate in a general discussion of juvenile problems. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

"The program is committed to the philosophy that providing and caring interest in schools is best built by finding a place for neighborhood parents to help create a climate of learning in their own children's schools. Parents from poverty areas are working side by side with volunteers from high-income areas."

So far, academic helpers are recruited largely from parents who are high school or college graduates, but there is a need to increase the service of others.

PHILADELPHIA: The school volunteer program here began in the fall of 1965. The Philadelphia Board of Education set up a department of volunteer service with a professional teacher as coordinator. By winter, 1965, almost 600 volunteers had been recruited.

Parents are shown how to make additional materials as well as at home and others for use in the classroom.

A very important byproduct of this particular program is the continuous education of ricium. Some a excerpt from a newsletter put out by the volunteer group in the schools reflect the feeling of volunteers and to teachers participating in the program. "A volunteer means a lot. I don't feel I've given anything. I am the one that benefited. I have been a part of an effort to make a difference in the world that will last."

"The response from parents was enthusiastic. They had the surprise satisfaction of finding themselves playing an important part in their own children's schools."

CHICAGO: In Chicago more than 600 volunteers are at work in the public schools. In addition to finding leaders from non-professional fields, many volunteers share their special talents or experience in specific areas of the curriculum.

Seventh District Pays Tribute To Past Presidents

Others honored included Mrs. Burton Byrne, Mrs. Carl P. Moyle, Mrs. George Gosselin, Mrs. Ervin J. Heckel, Mrs. Louis Heller and Mrs. Philip Schneider.

MRS. BEN F. Carver, current president, presided over the event.

A special convention program was given by Mrs. Myron Hartley, IFWC convention chairman.

MRS. EVERETT Nelson served as hostess. Special greetings were given by Mrs. V. B. Callin, president of the Des Plaines Woman's Club, and Mrs. Walter Holschlag, president of the Homewood Woman's Club, which served as hostess club.

Ridge PTA Launches Series On Education
Ridge School will present the first of a series of "New Trends in Education" at their PTA meeting on Jan. 21. The program, presented by the Ridge County Teachers and Development Center, Mrs. Linda Burkman, will speak on "New Horizons in Education."

Facons Preserve Win Column Over Foul-Minded Pirates

By Dave Garbart

Forest View's Falcons took care of their first home game last week's piling at Whitington to make the middle of the Mid-Suburban League race with a 25-10 win over a visiting Pirates squad Friday night.

Last weekend the Falcons took their first league loss as the Whittens dismantled them, 27-14. However, their consolation players weren't too badly shaken as they took advantage of the foul-minded Pirates.

The Falcons jumped into an early lead, which they held for most of the night, as they ran up a 7-0 score in the first two minutes on a pair of beautiful shots by forward Ken Grimmer and a three-point play by Greg Shewell.

After five minutes on the court, the Falcons were finally getting rolling as Jim Weaver hit on a pair of floor shots to go with a corner shot by Guy Zepko to come within one and make a hanging out of it.

However, the Falcons held a pair of chances to go with a 25-10 win by Grimmer as the Falcons ran up a substantial 11-6 margin. The Pirates managed another buck before the end of the first quarter as Jim Weaver's high point man, Phil Donahue, notched the first of his 23 points, leaving the Falcons ahead by a slim three points at the quarter break, 17-14.

THE FALCONS looked as though they were going to break the game when the Pirates opened the second quarter in a comeback surge. Shewell hit a jumper from the baseline and then Maser made his presence felt underneath as a 4-3 center tipped in a Grimmer shot and added four straight points from the foul line to make the score 24-10.

Prospect Records .65 Gymnastic Win Over State-Rated Evanston

By Linda Hamilton Sports Editor

After scoring 107 points the evening before against EIS, Evanston's 25-man team edged out the main rival, Chicago's 24-man Evanston, in a photo finish Saturday night, 101-100.

They did not without the top quality of the team's trampolines and tumblers. Jay Bennett, Evanston's best jumper, had been scheduled to go to both events but suffered a dislocated finger while sporting during the freestyle competition the night before.

He will be out for quite some time, perhaps for the duration of the season, as he is a junior and will be back next year.

Harper Trustees, Faculty Insist on Secret Session

By Ruth Schuchman

Harper College trustees met last night right after, and then with the school's faculty senate, in two secret meetings centering around faculty demands in the current dispute over the dismissal of two teachers.

This Day reporter and another member of the press both were excluded from both sessions.

Rep. Anthony Scarlino, (D-Park Forest) author of the open meeting act which was passed in 1967 by the Illinois legislature, yesterday said "it is questionable if the Harper board has legally held a closed meeting on these matters."

"The taxpayer has a right to know what the board is doing," he said.

"The public has a right to know what is going on in their money that is being spent."

"THE STATUTE is being interpreted so liberally by the attorney for the board," he said.

"Certainly the sponsors of the act didn't contemplate that every last ruling to a dismissal would be held in secret."

Frank Hines, lawyer for the Harper board, based his reason for the secret session on the foundation of the open meeting act.

"This section does not prevent anything covered by the Act from holding closed sessions to consider information regarding appointment, reappointment, dismissal of an employee or officer, but no final action may be taken at a closed session."

But the author of the law said that Harper is violating the spirit not only of open meeting act but also the law applying to professional persons on the college staff.

Scarlino said it seems preposterous that when a teacher is sitting at a desk everything applying to him and his family was the secret with the two dismissed instructors that this privilege should be denied.

"Harper board is going to find it difficult to acquire good teachers if this is the kind of shabby treatment they accord their faculty," he said.

"I THINK the junior colleges are going to make one college of themselves if they don't live up to this provision."

"I am sure these teachers would be given an open hearing by the University of Illinois or in any other state-supported university."

Scarlino declared that if this is the sort of outlook the schools are going to take, the legislature must have some second thoughts about closed control.

Harper's president Robert Lahti refused to comment about the secret session declaring that the board's legal counsel makes such decisions.

Day reporter Ruth Schuchman is denied admission to Harper trustees' meeting to discuss faculty union in the wake of two faculty dismissals.

Artemenko Won't Run Again For District 59 Presidency

Olga Artemenko, 431 Millers Rd., Des Plaines, president of the District 59 school board, said last night that she would not run for reelection.

Increased church activity was given as the reason she has been appointed an elder in the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Des Plaines and also serves as chairman of the business committee and as president of the church's trustees.

"I FEEL I HAVE made a contribution to my three years with the school board and I don't feel obligated to run for another term. My increased social responsibilities would take about as much time as it would not run for reelection. I will have the time to work for the board," he said.

Artemenko first served on the board of the building fund committee and last year was chairman of the budget committee. As such, he was the school board's chief negotiator for teachers' salaries with the teachers' union.

"He was an excellent budget committee chairman and chief negotiator," he said.

Trustees Approve Repair of 3 Wells

The village board approved repair of three water wells last night and told Village Manager L. A. Hooch to begin work on the wells in Douglas and Northwest Ridge, and Wayne and on the north Arlington Heights Rd. Hooch said the work would cost more than $25,000.

In other action, the board authorized Village Attorney Jack Segel to oppose a zoning request for a permit to establish a day nursery school on land near the village in unincorporated Cook County.

SEIGEL said he attended recent hearings on the property at 207 E. Golf, and the petitioner asked for a permit to use the ranch style home nursery school.

The petitioner told the County zoning board of 335 north on the south side of Plaines Rd. and west of Arlington Heights Rd.

The board deferred action on a request by Reichardt to build a new service station at the intersection of E. Wing and Arlington Heights Rd. to a planning commission.

approval of a zoning variation to allow one of the present wells of the building to extend 15 feet onto Wing St.

Mayor John Woods warned that a proposed one-way street pattern and possible construction at the intersection of Arlington Heights Rd. and Northwest Ridge might affect the parking plan submitted by the developer.

Reichardt was told to consult with the De Lave, Carter & Co., a Chicago firm presently doing a study of Arlington Heights, to determine what parking pattern would best suit the development.

What Do You Think?

What do you think about your school's new? High School District 214 (Arlington Heights, Prospect, Forest View, Westing, 8th Grove, and Henry High Schools) is discussing the idea.

Students would attend school about the same number of days as they now do, but vacations would be scheduled differently and not all students would be in school at the same time.

Two Readers Favor 12-Month Schools

By Ben Rosen
Last in a series

Day readers have been letting us know how they feel about the year-round school idea.

Under such a plan, currently being discussed by High School District 214, students would go to school about the same number of days that they now do. However, not all students would be in school at the same time.

OF DISTRICT 214 students adopted year-round school, Arlington, Prospect, Westing, 8th Grove, and Henry High Schools is discussing the idea.

These with favor the year-round idea are in support of the year-round school, and can't wait to get back to school. The last grade students are starting first grade in the fall.

It was used full-time. "Taxpayers wouldn't need more money for more schools."

"There would be no change of teaching hours. People want good teachers to teach our children. It is better to have fewer students who are taxpayers than to have more students who are taxpayers."

Mr. Linder's conclusion: "I would not have a school and not their kids."

As Arlington Heights member of the year-round school, who said that he had no objection to the year-round school, and that he would like to see the year-round school.

future occupations and many families who own all their travels into this period.

"Local merchants and industries should benefit because they are constantly in need of young people to fill job vacancies in the schools."

"FAMILIES WOULD be able to enjoy vacations together between sessions, broadening the children's education by varying the usual, but summer vacation to quarterly holidays throughout the country at different times."

"Students would find the regular term studies both enjoyable and stimulating. You don't have to give your opinion, but we would appreciate your telling us whether you are a student, or involved professionally with education."

Sign-Up Now for Countryside Art Classes

Countryside Art Center, 407 N. Vail, Arlington Heights, will begin its spring semester of art classes Feb. 24. The new semester will last for ten weeks, ending May 10. In addition to the classes presently being offered, several new courses will be added to the schedule.

Classes in beginning printmaking will be taught by Frank Vodorva, a native of New York. Vodorva studied architecture at the Pratt Institute and was awarded a B.A. in plastic and graphic arts from the University of Illinois. He is currently a student at the Chicago Graduate School of Fine Arts.

His classes at Countryside will study printmaking, silk screen and cardboard printing. He plans to cover various methods and media used in order to familiarize the student thoroughly with the art of printmaking. Three class times will be offered.

JAMES BARBER will continue with the advanced painting class he taught last semester. He will also give a class in figure drawing and painting from two models at the Gallery from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesday.

Barber has taught at Countryside for several years. He instructed the Children's Art School at the Detroit Museum and served as the museum's curator, and holds a Master of Fine Arts degree from the Cranbrook Academy of Fine Arts.

A new teacher at Countryside this year, Marilyn Loft, will give an introduction to painting and the use of acrylics to young people who have shown an interest in painting. The class will be geared to a beginner's level, and will include lessons in how to mix paint, the proper use of the palette, and the preparation of canvases.

Mrs. Loft teaches at the Thomas Junior High School in Arlington Heights. Her work is familiar to many Chicago art lovers. Her class will be offered from 3:45 p.m. to 5:05 p.m. on Wednesdays at the Gallery.

Interestingly known as portrait painter, Ed Pankaj, will teach a class in portrait painting on Friday from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

Pankaj is a candidate for a Master of Fine Arts degree at the Art Institute of Chicago. His work has been seen in "Playboy Magazine," and he is widely recognized as one of the country's finest painters.

GIRTS PURVIS and Ted Agnewopolis will teach several children's classes. They will present two and three dimensional problems to the children and show them the development of form and space through the use of color.

The classes are to be graded according to the age of the children so that instruction can be brought to them on their own level. One of the sessions is specifically designed for teenagers from 15 to 18.

Mr. Purvis holds a BFA from the Chicago Art Institute and is presently a candidate for a Master of Design. He is the general manager of the Kaffir Gallery, and has taught at several schools in the Chicago area. He will also teach a class in general painting for adults from 7 to 10 p.m. on Thursday evenings at the Gallery. TED Agnewopolis is a well known Chicago artist and has taught at Countryside this year. He is also a member of the Countryside Art Center Board of Directors.

Current classes which will continue through the second semester include beginning painting, taught by Pat Lalo; intermediate painting, instructed by Barbara Vodorva; and advanced painting, by James Barber. Jack Schmitt will continue his class in watercolor and Robert Quackenbush's weaving and stained glass sessions will be offered again. In addition to her painting class, Pat Lalo will hold a class in wall sculpture.

For further information, please call Countryside Gallery at 253-5055 from 1 to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

THE SIZE of the classes

July Pabla, 14, Belling blowdown and Steve Chaney, 12, Arlington Heights, are making their own film. They arrange 8 mm. film so it will show this point, adding color in combination of paint and design. They also make a sound track on tape complete with dialogue, laughs and screams and their instructor, Theodore Agnewopolis, from Countryside Art Center, runs it through the projector and they view their work of art on a screen. Through this the students learn a relationship between color, shape and form.

Children enrolled in Countryside Art Center's special class for young people, work as a unit with special attention on perspective. The class is taught by Theodore Agnewopolis, a master's candidate in painting and drawing at the Art Institute of Chicago. (Photos by Harold Wambach)

Install Officers Thursday

Mrs. J.B. Abbe, Arlington Heights homemaker, will be installed as president of the Arlington Heights Homemakers Extension Unit when the group meets 1 p.m. Thursday in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association building.

Other officers to be installed are Mrs. Wilton B. Wadsworth, first vice president; Mrs. Glenn Pierce, second vice president; Mrs. E. C. Blum, secretary; and Mrs. Marion Hogate, treasurer. The installing official will be

Author Poses Annual Fan Basketball Quiz

Do you have your whistle ready? Today's your turn to call the shots.

As in the past couple of years, today's column is devoted to a fan basketball quiz. It is composed of 10 fairly common situations that you may see in most any basketball game.

ONE OR MORE of the answers given may be correct. And so people at answers will vary throughout.

During a throw-in by team A, who can call time out A, neither team, B, team A only, both teams, or no time is left?

2. The clock shows that no time is left in the game but the horn has not sounded. Is the game over? A, yes, B, no.

3. A PLAYER, in an attempt to score a basket, jumps into the air and releases the ball. An offensive man then moves into the shooter's path, and the shooter lands on him. A. No basket and the shooter is charged with a player foul; B. The basket counts and the shooter gets one free throw; C. The basket counts and the shooter gets two free throws.

4. While advancing the ball to front court, a player is closely guarded by the defensive man for five seconds. A. call a jump ball; B. The hold ball rule doesn't apply in back court, so ignore it; C. Continue the count until 10 seconds have elapsed, then call a violation for failing to advance the ball to front court.

5. While attempting to shoot, a player is fouled simultaneously by two opponents. The shot is missed. A. award one free throw for each foul; B. award two free throws for each foul; C. Award no free throws.

6. After completing a dribble, the dribbler drops the ball and it rolls a few feet away. He picks it up and secures possession again. Is it a violation? A. double dribble; B. traveling violation; C. no violation.

7. After several seconds down a player goes to make a legal throw-in? A. three seconds; B. five seconds; C. 10 seconds.

8. When a technical foul is called, who may shoot the ball? A. the captain; B. only a player in the game at the time of the technical foul; C. any player on the team including those on the bench at the time of the technical foul.

9. Which of the following are considered to be legal numbers? A. 0, B. 11; C. 2, D. 3; E. 6, F. 55; G. 99.

10. On a jump ball at the center circle, the ball is tapped directly to a player in his front court. He may: A. dribble into backcourt; B. pass to a teammate in his front court who is in back dribbles into backcourt.

Here are the answers (If you peeked, it's an automatic technical foul):

1. C, 2. B, 3. C, 4. B, C, 5. A, 6. G, 7. B, 8. C, 9. A, D, F, 10. A, B.

Well, how did you score? If you made 100 per cent, then it's time to buy a whistle and a striped shirt; if not, please continue to follow Whistle Stop for the remainder of the basketball season.

Sealions Win Twice Against Tough Foes

The St. Victor Sealions emerged from weekend action with two victories in spite of some of the toughest competition they have faced all year.

Saturday, with strong performances from Bill McCallister, George Hales, Rich Lynch, Steve Salerno, and Bill Grier, Sealions overcame a strong Washington team, 63-52. Monday, Marmon gave the St. Victor their toughest competition this season but the Sealions squeaked by 49-46.

THE WAUKESHA encounter began with the St. Victor leading 10-0. Ed Martin, Dan Maguire and Gene O'Hair winning easily in 1-51.3.

McCallister broke the pool and the team scored in the 200-yard freestyle as he swam the third of the field in 1:57.0. Waukesha's Leonard Leach and Dan Maguire took second and third respectively.

Hales earned five points for the Sealions by winning the 50 freestyle in 2:59. Again Waukesha led the second and third place finishers.

THE 200-YARD individual medley featured an exciting race for second place between the Sealions' Al Kambay and Waukesha's Jim Anderson. Anderson won the race for second, and Salerno placed first in 2:19.7.

St. Victor divers Jeff Foley and Terry McCre finished one-two as they captured the individual honors with 45.00 points. Bill West of Waukesha was third.

McCallister appeared to have taken his second first of the meet in the 100-yard butterfly until the official told him that he was disqualified. Kambay won the race from Waukesha's Tom Col. St. Victor's Dan Maguire was second and Rich Ferrino of Waukesha was third.

LYNCH SPRINTED to a first and a win in the 100 free, taking 1:52 lead in the race from Tom Col who finished second. Rich Ferrino of Waukesha was third.

Backstrokers O'Hair and Matt Abasi both gave excellent performances. O'Hair leading until O'Hair got out of the pool. O'Hair won the race in 1:03.5. Abasi was second and Rich Ferrino of Waukesha was third.

The 400-yard free was another exciting race as Hales and Maguire battled for first. Hales led at the opening of the race. Maguire's pulled Hales with 200 yards remaining, then Hales edged the Waukesha swimmer with a finishing sprint that was his first place bonus. John Driscoll of St. Victor was third.

Kambay and Ed Martin combined the 100 intermediate for the Sealions as Kambay finished first with a 1:02.0 and Martin was second with 1:10.0. Roger Bell finished third for Waukesha.

The Sealions' 100 free of Lynch, Hales, and O'Hair was in a last 200.

THE MARMON encounter was the Sealions' and Marmon's first meet of the year. Things began as usual as O'Hair, Rich Lynch, and Maguire won the medley relay in 2:19.9.

The meet continued going in St. Victor's favor as they won the 200 free in 1:57.0. In the 100 free, a lot of things to come, was Marmon's Brian Tom Brock's second place and Don Freeman's third.

Marmon captain Bob Bura narrowly defeated Abasi in the 50 free. Bura's 24.1 was 3 seconds better than Abasi's time. Sealions Jeff Leach was third.

SALERNO FOUGHT off a strong challenge from Brock as he won the 200 individual medley in 2:19.9. Kambay was third for the Sealions.

The Marmon divers outswam the St. Victor swimmers as Bob Pettit set a new meet record with 45.00 points while winning easily over teammate Don Freeman. The Sealions' Jeff Foley was third.

Marmon's George Gaw set a new Marmon team record but it was not enough to overcome a determined Salerno who won in 1:02.5. Gaw was second and St. Victor's Maguire was third.

THE 100 FREESTYLE produced a very exciting race as St. Victor's Hales came from behind to beat Chuck Kiebman in a close finish. Hales came in with a 1:51.6 and Kiebman set a new Marmon team record with 45.3. Marmon's Frank Allart was third.

Grier continued his unbeaten season in the 100 back, winning the time in 1:03.5. St. Victor's Ed Schuch was second and Marmon's Bill Ray was third.

The meet became trading when a combination of bad water broke defeated McCallister in the 400 freestyle. The Marmon swimmer's time was 4:21.2. Greg Block was third for Marmon.

THE EVENT which won the meet for the Sealions was one in which a Marmon swimmer placed first. Bura did a excellent 1:07.2 to win the 100 free.

McCallister was disqualified on a backstroke with his three points won by Marmon's points of winning the meet. Marmon and Kambay were second and third respectively for St. Victor.

Though it proved to be inconsequential, the 400 free relay was marvellous as the Sealions swimmers survived a strong challenge by Marmon's Hales to edge the Sealions' crew of O'Hair, Abasi, Hales, and Mark Schuler while setting a new Marmon record.

THE LAST MEET for St. Victor in the 1968-69 season was the 100 free. The contest is a very big one for coach Charles. Hales' tankard and the St. Victor swimmers are looking forward to it.

THE MEET between some of the best swimmers from the two schools of the Western region was held at the Marmon swimming pool. Last year's Victor finished their meet with a 1:02.0 and Marmon's Bura was second with 1:10.0.

Dist. 59 Administrators, Teachers Seek Closer Ties

Teachers and administrators of Elk Grove Village School District 59 have begun a series of semi-monthly meetings to develop better communication between the two groups.

Teachers' council officers met Tuesday with Superintendant Thomas, who said the first meeting will be held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

The teachers' council tried to take a legal stand at a school board meeting Monday night on the issue of teacher participation in selecting school principals.

THE BOARD ruled, after school discussion, that consultation with a "teacher steering committee" is principal appointments in the past did not constitute a board policy.

"Tuesday morning meetings of the council officers and I discussed the need for better communication between the teachers and the administration and we agreed to continue meeting the second and fourth Tuesday of each month," Thomas said.

Monday night Thomas selected Thomas Powers, principal at High Ridge Grade Elementary School, to fill a vacancy next year when Chester Junior High School principal Donald Sidmore takes a year's leave of absence.

"I am sure the teachers at Deerpark will do everything possible to help Powers succeed here," Thomas said.

"It is important that the administration work closely with the teachers and consider their recommendations," he said.

Card Tankers Top FV in Close Meet

Arington's Tanker slipped just the Forest View swimmer Monday night at the B. V. pool, winning by a 40-20 margin over the four classifications.

The Cardinal 100-yard medley team of Erick Lindblad, Dennis Stout, Roger Chapman, and Steve Jucos was the first-place winner in the event, setting the Arington swimmers off toward their second victory of the season.

ARLINGTON'S KURT Thompson was the talent in the 200 yard freestyle, and Falcon North Polek was second in the event.

Falcon Steve Johnson won up the third place finish in the 200 freestyle event, after Polek.

Kurt Tallchow was the big winner in 50 yard freestyle, and Forest View's Mark Bailey nailed down a second, followed by teammate Scott Palenkov, who was third.

Cardinal Tom Rowe was the freestyle finisher in the 200 yard individual medley, with a good time of 2:23.4, and Falcon John Mann was second, followed by third place Bill Wheeler of Arlington.

Arlington sophomore Jeff Thimann took the diving competition, and Jim Johnson and Kurt Huggan, both of Forest View, were second and third.

The most exciting race of the meet, the 400-yard freestyle relay, was won by Forest View, led by Fred Wendt, who also took the 100-yard butterfly.

Arington's Tallchow was a close second, but Falcon won the relay by a third place.

FOREST VIEW'S

freeman participation in that event later, drew Arington back coach Pete Clark to say, "There is no doubt that Forest View has five of the finest freestyle swimmers to be seen in this part of the country for some time."

Capitols Pete Nester led the Cardinal freestyle squad to their first win of the season earlier in the evening as they topped the junior Falcon.

Every Arington freestyle swimmer turned in his best time of the season in that meet, and Nester was both the 150-yard and the 300-yard freestyle event.

Falcon Still Second in MSL

Forest View's upset took Glenhard North, 59:47 in a 100 yard freestyle. Secondary to maintain their second place in the Mid-Suburban.

Card Jim Huggan placed second in the 100 yard freestyle, while Jim Johnson and Kurt Huggan, both of Forest View, were second and third.

THOMPSON WON the 100 yard freestyle, and a surprise finisher, Jim Johnson, took first, just behind Falcon Polek.

Lindblad commanded the 100 yard butterfly, and Card Jim Huggan placed second in the 100 yard freestyle, while Jim Johnson and Kurt Huggan, both of Forest View, were second and third.

In what could be another crucial test for the Ek Gyn gymnastic Grenders, Fred Gaudin's crew will match muscles with Hersey tonight in the Huskie gym.

The Grenders currently stand 10th in the state rankings while the Huskies are not ranked at 16th and are moving up at 11th.

"THE STATISTICS, of course, show us the underdog," said Huskie coach Don Von Ebers, whose first-year team is rapidly building into a first-class club. "On an average, they're at a four-point advantage."

The Grenders, ranked 90-79, posted their first win in a first-class club. "On an average, they're at a four-point advantage."

"Moores definitely wants to beat Fernandez on the apparatus he will meet him on," said Von Ebers.

"If I jump 5.5, 5.5 and 4.5, watch out for my 6.5!" was the warning last night of Forest View gymnastics coach Gary Hughes, whose upset defeated gym team, held the upset last evening.

"I think it will be a close meet," said Wildcat coach Wayne Seling. "If we have our own team then it will be close meet."

"WE HAVE A couple of injuries this week," said Seling. "Don Kaiser has a bad hand, and Mike Hughes has had trouble with his back muscles."

Both Kaiser and Hughes have been strong for the Cats this year. "We don't have 5.0 gymnasts, and we'll have to leave spots open," said Seling.

Other strong finishers for the Cats have been Cliff Hoffman, Rene Mathis, and Steve Holthausen. Huggan, Holthausen and Kauer work the tramp, which is one of the Widens' best events.

HOFFMAN, MATHIS and Zanday compete on side horse. Rainer, Mathis and

Hughes compare the horizontal bar event, while Mathis and Hughes are on the parallel bars.

Hughes, Steve Oakley and Mathis represent Wheeling in the still ring competition and the Holthausen Zanday and Mathis will participate in five exercises for the Cats.

Instructor at Harper Has Art Work Display

The works of John Knudsen, assistant professor and instructor in art at Harper College, are being exhibited this month at the Kankakee Gallery, Concordia College in River Forest.

The one-man show includes 28 prints and five drawings completed over eight years.

One of Knudsen's prints was selected for exhibition in the Chicago and vicinity show in 1965, displayed at the Art Institute. The current exhibit is the first complete showing of his work.

"Most of the works are figurative," Knudsen said. "Some are combined sketches and paintings with color. The majority of the prints in the show have been completed. They are run on my basement press in multiples of 20 to 25 copies per edition. They are signed and considered originals."

Knudsen commented that the current popularity of prints is based on the fact that, compared with paintings, they are less expensive and may be bought today as they will be tomorrow.

Knudsen also noted that local residents will be able to view the work when it is shown at the Little Gallery at the Harper College library in Elm Grove High School later this winter.

Knudsen's work has also been featured in a number of other one-man shows, including exhibitions at Luther College, Decorah, Iowa; Plattsburg, (N.Y.) State College, Plattsburg, New York; University, Jonesboro, and Clinton College, Mo.

Knudsen, who received his M.F.A. degree at the University of Iowa, lives in Plattsburg, Mo.

A group of local women who have been members of P.E.O. in other communities have gathered together to start a new chapter in the Arlington Heights area.

The P.E.O. Sisterhood is a philanthropic, educational and charitable organization for the organizers have held two meetings. Any interested members who would be interested in becoming a member of a nucleus group to work toward the new chapter is asked to call Mrs. William K. Rankin at 358-7215. Another member in the P.E.O. from the area is Mrs. Donald Cook, past president of the Supreme Chapter of Illinois.

A good number of the downtown Arlington Heights shops called to report for the first time that they had been visited by a group of women who had made her purchases. When she was told that the women had discovered that her car was stuck in the local parking lot. She just added it to the list.

"I saw a man coming into the store and asked him, 'Could you please help me?'" The man said, "I'm busy" and went on his way.

She went back into the store and told the girl at the counter, "I'm stuck in your parking lot. Can someone help me?" The girl went back to a male employee and repeated what she had said.

The man said, "Tell her to call a service station." She told him she hoped that her wife was never in the same situation.

Finally, after trying to move the car again, she walked over to the police station. Officer Eugene Kopp was the one who met her. He was doing dead work and he put it aside. He walked through the rain with her to the parking lot. He nudged and pushed until finally pushing the front of the car up. "I want everyone to know just how great I think he was," she said. "He did it all so easily."

Best Off Broadway's "Town" Promises To Be the Best

BY CATHERINE O'DONNELL

Leonard Bernstein's delightful musical comedy, "The Town" will open tonight at the Bristol Memorial Theatre, 502 W. Euclid. The production by "On The Town" company promises to be one of the group's best. It will play through Jan. 26, and continue the following weekend.

Reservations for the rollicking musical can be made by calling Martha Brayton at ME 9-6446 or Carmel Gist at 992-4872. Curtain time on Sun. is at 7:30 p.m. Other evening curtain times are at 8:30 p.m.

THE FUN feature of Best Off Broadway plays often happens offstage as much as on. During the past weeks rehearsal, there has been much happening to the company for someone to "own" their d'vise a book.

For instance, Agnes and the King of Sheen are together again. They're working with the crew on this one. Agnes, Lynn Jean and Miss Mabely, Hank Vanderhoof, are proving their versatility in the sameness of community theatre.

WHEN RAY and Donna Harmon left for a recent trip to the Bahamas, they made certain that they would find plenty of rest with the business portion of the journey. It was a good thing they did because when their plane landed at O'Hare Airport at 7:30 p.m., they just had enough time to pick up the rehearsal and make an 8 p.m.

rehearsal in Arlington Heights. They live in Arlington and they did manage to drop off the bag on the way to the theatre. Donna plays a little on the lady and Ray is part of the stage crew.

SCOTTY WALKER of Highland Park did not take too kindly to the fact that his wife, Carol, had to drive all the way to Arlington Heights to do the choreography on the show. He decided to accompany her as insurance for a safe journey.

He still doesn't know how it happened but he is playing all kinds of waltzes, extra and crowd scenes. So far, he has counted seven costume changes that he has for the parts he plays.

THE LEADING man, Carl Oustoff who is playing "Obby," had to be there one rehearsal night. In the fine tradition of the "How must go on," Director Richard Tyler stepped in and sang the role.

He did such a tremendous job that the crew gathered and joined the cast as they stopped the rehearsal with their applause. Tyler who sang professionally is able to cover for just about all the leads in just about all of the musicals. He lives in Chicago.

Sarah Lewis of Hoffman Estates is another who stepped in at the last moment and is using her particular brand of designing magic to make costumes appear from both and pieces in last minute costume changes.

PHYLLIS LOCKER, who teaches dancing at her own school in Arlington Heights, is often seen at the desk telling the sewer men, "You don't drink the stuff, though. She uses it to cool her dancing toes."

Phyllis is doing the "Lonely Town" set a dress with Tony Paine of Harrison on her toes, or "on point" as unprofessionals say.

And just to show that she and her husband, Daniel Harvey Locher whose office is in Des Plaines, are working both ends against the middle, when the prop discussor's teeth did not look right someone suggested that they get Doctor Locher for a tooth straightening job.

Dr. Locher despaired. Phyllis said he has only one wife to go to BOB but he will be the show.

AS IF that wasn't enough,

"It help you find that member," shouts Betty Jean Bringle of 228 Grant Village in Jerry Bates of Huling Modern. The two appear in Best Off Broadway's production of "On The Town."

the most heroic of all just has to be Connie Pearson who lives in Glenview. Connie is the head of the property department. Recently she disappeared for a few days. When one of the members called to ask if the props were ready, she answered, "I'll finish last."

Town" to be held this weekend and next at the Bristol Memorial Theatre in Arlington Heights.

In 'Carousel'

Many Kase as Mrs. Mullin tries to talk some sense into the headstrong head of wanderer, Billy Hargrove, played by Mark Giamel. The two youngsters from Sacred Heart of Mary High School for girls and St. Victor High School for Boys have combined their talents and the talents of 200 other students from the two schools for the musical, "Carousel," which opens next weekend and plays through the following weekend.

Des Plaines Guild Offers 'Homecoming'

Time and tickets are running out for the 1948 Homecoming Theatre Festival. The festival is being presented by Des Plaines Theatre Guild as part of a feature series, "The American Identity Crisis," sponsored by Fomel Hospital.

The forward looking drama for forward looking people will be given on one night only, Tues. Feb. 11, at Meade South High School in Park Ridge.

It is being presented by Des Plaines Theatre Guild as part of a feature series, "The American Identity Crisis," sponsored by Fomel Hospital.

Peters was also awarded the certificate of the Certified Illinois Assessing Official for having achieved a high degree of assessing competence.

Peters recently attended a school of instruction for assessors conducted in St. Louis by the International Association of Assessing Officials. Taking part were assessors from all over the world.

LEONARD KALMAN is appearing in "Light Up the Sky" at the Chicago Board of Trade Plumes Film Theatre. The show starts at 8 p.m. through Feb. 2. It will be followed by "The Fighting of Stone George" starring Hank Herman.

Financiers Predict:

Loans Cost More, But Available

By Bob Burns

An increase in prime rates by major banks may make home mortgage loans more costly in the northwest suburbs, but according to most authorities in the field, it won't greatly diminish the amount of money available for such loans.

Responding to a hike in Federal Reserve discount rates, major metropolitan banks have increased their prime rate discount interest rate offered to grade borrowers from 6 1/2 to 7 per cent, highest is memory.

OFFICIALS AT MOST

northwest suburban banks and savings and loan associations said they do not think it will seriously affect the money supply, since they get almost no mortgage loan funds from these sources.

They indicated there would be no changes in basic loan policies.

These suburban financial institutions rely almost exclusively on deposits for capital funds, for which no increase in interest payments was allowed when the other rates were hiked.

One exception to the general comment is Joseph F. Sokol, president of Mount Prospect Federal Savings and Loan Association.

"The situation now closely parallels the credit crunch of 1966," he told The Day.

Mortgage rates are higher today than they were then.

He said reports from New York indicate that banks there lost more than a billion dollars in time deposits as the major depositories began switching to government notes. He said this eventually would squeeze the money supply in other areas.

Jack Clark Jr., mortgage lending division manager for Mount Prospect Federal Savings and Loan Association, said that in "taking

HE ADDED that a "poor credit risk" doesn't have a chance of getting a mortgage, but that a "good credit risk" can get a mortgage.

He said the VA mortgage has collapsed under the burden of a 7.75 per cent rate. "We have been in a tight money situation for some time," he said, but he sees no worsening conditions.

Interest rates in the northwest suburbs have generally been 6 1/2 per cent, with some agencies already charging 7 per cent on some room loans.

He said the does not allow more than 7 per cent interest on single-family home mortgages.

Ray Johnson, president of the First National Bank of Mount Prospect, says a "stringent drying up" of mortgage funds and his bank is making such loans "only to customers with other valuable assets."

He said the bank had been requiring a maximum 50 per cent down payment and now "is looking for 40 per cent."

William Bunt, president of the Mount Prospect State Bank, said he is continuing to offer mortgages, but his interest rates are four per cent to 7 1/2 per cent, and may not make a loan for more than 20 to 25 years.

Every member of the Bank and Trust Company of Arlington Heights said the firm has made more home mortgage loans last year than ever before, and has occasionally made loans "on terms" to "control" the demand.

He predicted the increase in the prime rate would have no effect on the amount of mortgage money available and that the market would only temporarily slow down.

"I remember when the rate first went up to six per cent," Milligan said, "and everybody said borrowers would resist it, but they didn't. People pay 7 per cent, too," he forecast.

An official of the First National Bank of Arlington Heights, who said "two months" before, would be "terribly surprised" if the rate rose, said there is some uncertainty in the economy market while the industry watches for the trend of the Nixon administration in combating inflation.

The financial speculators intervened by The Day did not see a shortage of money for subdivision developers. Most of this money comes from insurance companies and large metropolitan banks.

The insurance companies now want a part of the equity as a hedge against inflation.

Joseph F. Sokol, of Mount Prospect Federal, said they aren't worried about rising prices.

A MOORE pessimistic note was sounded by Robert H. Pease, a Chicago mortgage banker, by Robert H. Pease, a Chicago mortgage banker, by Robert H. Pease, a Chicago mortgage banker.

He said that the mortgage market is in chaos and the mortgage market are near collapse, he said a meeting of the Southern California Mortgage Bankers Association today. "This is the legacy of 1968 which will plague the mortgage market in the years to come," he said.

Pallet Loads Solve Grocery Shipping Problem

Jewel Companies, Inc., Chicago, took the first step recently in revolutionizing traditional methods of shipping heavy grocery products when it received a fiasco load of grocery sacks from a paper company in Richmond, Va.

The 97,500-pound shipment was made by Consumer Bag and Packaging Company. The 750,000 lb. sacks—160 per load, 25 bags on a pallet, and 500 sacks to a bulk—were protected from elements by plastic shrink film.

Each pallet load was tightly covered with Kapton PVC (polyvinyl chloride) film that had been heat-treated by wrapping machinery designed by and manufactured for Reynolds Metal Company, which also made the plastic film.

The 940 miles from Richmond, Va., to Jewel's warehouse in the Chicago suburb of Melrose Park were covered without incident.

The plastic film was so strong that several of them were stored outside the warehouse on a concrete pad to test their exposure to the elements over a period of time.

Frank Spreyer, executive vice president of Jewel Food Stores and originator of the idea to ship grocery bags in bulk, said the idea is the beginning of a new trend.

A & P Makes Move Toward Decentralization

The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Inc. has announced a major decentralization move effective when the fiscal year begins in New York on Jan. 24.

Marvin W. Aldridge, chairman and chief executive officer, said the new organizational structure is designed to facilitate decision-making by local management and to provide more flexibility in operating stores, averaging more than $150 million a year in sales.

AAP is delegating operating authority for 4,723 stores to 33 autonomous divisions in the United States. Canada will continue to operate as a subsidiary company. The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, Limited, U.S. Division will be grouped into four regions—East, Central, Southern and Western.

"IN TODAY'S fast-moving, highly competitive business of food retailing," Mr. Aldridge said, "it is important that the men responsible for buying, distributing and selling, and the operations of our stores, be in position to move quickly in response to the needs of their local markets."

The 33 new U.S. divisions will be headed by a general manager, who will be a regional vice president.

Present division presidents, who also are corporate vice presidents, will continue to they can be loaded and unloaded more quickly. They can also be loaded and unloaded from ground level, while others require a dock. Flats are less maintenance and therefore less expensive because there are no doors, walls, or ceilings to damage.

SPREYER CITED his own advantage of faster shipments. "Some grocery products with plastic shrink film overwrap can be stored outside," he said. "An ideal arrangement would be to have a large concrete slab next to a warehouse, preferably with a roof of some kind—but with open sides."

He said in this way many products could be stored outside without any fear of damage, thus freeing costly warehouse space for other items.

In comparing the fiasco load of grocery sacks with a standard load of 500 sacks, Spreyer said the payload was increased some 44 per cent, but the cost was only about 16 per cent larger than the standard load. "The cost on the fiasco was not utilized in this way."

IN A NORMAL 500-sack load, 67,500 pounds of 16 lbs. Jewel grocery sacks are shipped. There would be 520,000 lbs. in the car. At 16 lbs. per sack, 32,500 pounds of air would also be shipped—less the weight of the car.

By contrast, the fiasco shipment was 97,500 pounds or 750,000 grocery sacks. The fiasco is 54 in. high, 48 in. long, but Spreyer pointed out that the test shipment did not use the entire length. "We were more concerned with full utilization of space on this run," he said.

"We could have moved one hundred sacks a day for ten and stacked on another four hundred sacks. We have increased our shipment to 500,000 pounds. Our payload on the fiasco would have been about 44 per cent greater than that of a standard."

Spreyer said Jewel and Consumer Bag Corporation had cooperated on the fiasco shipment for four years and agreed to ship the test truck but needed to test the method.

"We used standard wrapping on each pallet with plastic film, we wrapped film over the entire outside, and then topped it with a tarpaulin. We actually used too many materials, and many of them were not right for our shipment."

He said they learned from the experience of the first shipment to do the job the time—and do it inexpensively. "Our costs were negligible," he said. "The test shipment cost about $65, and the 100,000 sack shipment cost about $100, and the cost of the film and the tarpaulin was about $100, and our savings on the shipment—bagging, wrapping, labor loading and unloading, etc.—more than offset these extra costs."
